

Village Saves Nurse Service Until Jan. 1

Nursing service in Arlington Heights under the supervision of the CTI hung in the balance for over an hour Tuesday night while representatives of the village, trade and civic association, the elementary board of education, the township and interested citizens tried to find $400 missing from the nurse budget.

A letter was read from C. I. Davis, president of the high school board, in which it was made plain that so far as the year is concerned, $200 is the only amount that can be expected from that body. The high school board was in session and efforts to have an audience with that body that evening were unavailable due to the great amount of business awaiting action of that body that evening. Mr. Davis did state over the phone that a special meeting of the high school board could be called to discuss the nurse problem.

John Allen, who was present at the meeting in the municipal building, made it plain that immediate action was necessary if a relief nurse was to be secured by Friday, which is the last day that Miss Jackson will be serving Arlington Heights.

The meeting was called to order at eight o'clock by Dr. Allen as chairman of the special committee of the Civic & Trade Association. Two hours later no solution had been found, but the situation summed up in a few sentences was:

Necessary budget, $1800.
Village share	$ 800
Elementary school	400
High school quota, $300
amount provided in approved budget	200
Township budget, $300; later disclaimed by town board.
Total available	$1400
Deficiency	400

The suggestion of an independent nurse for the village at less cost per month was thoroughly discussed. The consensus of opinion was that the added services made available to Arlington Heights by the CTI sponsorship (including $420 for auto) were indispensable. The village has received to this date a total of $20 from the high school and $100 from the elementary school and has paid $480 of its quota of $800.

Supervisor Grandt did not disclaim any unwillingness to contribute to the fund, but was emphatic in his inability to do anything this year, especially as the township board had turned down the authorization. He did express his willingness to have an ample nurse budget included in the 1939 levy if the taxpayers expressed such a desire at the town meeting next April. Mayor Flentie reported that since publication of the threatened abandonment of nurse service in Arlington Heights, he had been approached by a number of organizations, who had stated that if necessary they would again contribute to the cause. Such a procedure, stated Mr. Flentie, was unfair unless no other way could be found to maintain the service.

Alderman Krause and others agreed with him that Arlington Heights was a big enough town to support its own nurse service without resorting to charity; that three major taxing bodies should pay the cost without asking for private donations.

Claim of the high school board that as some of its tax money comes from Mt. Prospect and sections of Elk Grove and Wheeling township that are not served by the Arlington Heights nurse, bars them from making a major contribution, was refuted that evening by statements that the Arlington Heights nursing service safeguards the health of every pupil attending the high school and that an adequate budget for its maintenance is the duty of the high school board.

Likewise claim that the local nurse does not give service to territory outside of Arlington Heights and therefore use of township funds would not be right was denied by Mr. Allen who drew the attention of the meeting to the fact that Miss Jackson has devoted a large part of her time to charity cases of the village, caring for the needy, etc., which according to law is the direct obligation of the township and for which the people of Arlington Heights pay a thirty-cent township relief tax.

The meeting had adjourned without any action and those present were ready to leave when the village representatives present, including Mayor Flentie, aldermen Krause, Schneberger, Goedecke and Adam, volunteered to assume responsibility for the financial responsibility of the nursing service until Jan. 1; any funds being advanced to be applied against the village quota of $800 for the year. Arlington Heights will have a public nurse on the job through the month of December, arriving Friday, in time to consult Miss Jackson. Future service depends on either private subscriptions or willingness of taxing bodies to pay their proportionate share of the cost.

Duntzman Defends Rights Before Zone Appeal Board

The public hearing held Monday evening at the Arlington Heights village hall to decide the "Duntzman building proposal" ended after a heated discussion, still unresolved.

The Board of Appeals took matter under advisement and Mr. Duntzman's permit is still pending. A resolution was read, signed by 53 members of the Arlington Heights Woman's club, opposing the erection of such a building joining the park. It was stated later that many of the signatures were affixed without knowledge as to the correct specifications of the proposed building.

Mr. Duntzman was represented by Attorney Adams, who held the floor the greater part of the evening, pointing out why the proposed building permit should be granted. Mr. Adams pointed out that Duntzman did not intend to use the proposed building for industrial purposes and he cited Section 5 of the building code, distinguishing commercial from industrial purposes which reads in part, "prohibiting any manufacturing or treatment other than or clearly incidental to the product sold on the premises."

The park board seemed to feel that there might be room for an argument on the bottling of milk, possibly for outside distribution; and Mr. Adams asked, "if Mr. Duntzman chose to have the milk pasteurized and bottled elsewhere, if there would be any objection to the proposed building?" Mr. Allen stated that there would probably be no objection.

Attorney Adams pointed out that if the park board had wanted this property, they should have acted sooner, and he added, that for the cost of this small strip of land, which would prove very expensive to the village, they could purchase elsewhere a more spacious plot of land that would provide a park for our children and grandchildren, at a smaller cost to the taxpayers.

Mr. Adams again pointed out the type of building his client proposed to build, a modernistic one-story building that would enhance the beauty of the park, rather than detract from it. It was also pointed out that the safety of the children might be jeopardized if the Park Board should acquire all the frontage on the Northwest Highway adjoining the park, unless a fence was built which would add still greater cost to the taxpayers.

Mr. Henken of Scarsdale said he had conferred with most of the members of the Scarsdale Improvement Association, and that they were opposed to the building.

Mr. Adams replied that the Stonegate residents were not opposed to the building and that he thought as far as public opinion was concerned, he could see no reason why Scarsdale residents should object, and that after all public opinion would not affect the legal rights.

Mr. Adams compared the proposed building which would be attached to the gas stations and factories surrounding the park on two sides and he indicated that the building would be erected; possibly excluding the pasteurizing and bottling on premises.

Mr. Tuetsch spoke in behalf of Mr. Duntzman and praised the latter for his efforts and stated that as an independent tax payer, he would rather see Mr. Duntzman build there and pay some revenue to the village and pay taxes rather than allow to present park board taxes.

Mr. Allen stated that the Board was working in the interest of the local citizens and that public opinion in his estimation was a major issue. He said they could not ignore the fact that the Woman's club had presented the petition; to which Mrs. Adams replied that many of the members did not know what they were actually signing and that many of them would prefer their names not on the petition, now that they know the type of building proposed.

After all the discussion the Board of Appeals adjourned, the case still undecided, was taken under advisement.

During the discussion a statement was made that Mr. Duntzman had already purchased the lot.

Heart Attack Takes Robert Richards

Robert Richards an employee of the Creamery Package Company for a period of 23 years, died suddenly Tuesday morning at his residence in the West building, Arlington Heights. The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at the Lauterbach & Oehler mortuary, Rev. Kossack officiating. Interment will be at Oswego, Ill.

Robert Harley Richards was born in Oswego, Ill., Jan. 16, 1893, where he spent his boyhood and graduated from high school. He entered the employ of the Creamery Package Co. at Waukegan and with the exception of four years with the American Steel & Wire, was with the Creamery Package company until three years ago. He resided in Arlington Heights the past 13 years. Failing health became more acute last summer, but the family was not aware of the seriousness of his condition until his death.

Deceased married Miss Marion Jensen February 3, 1917, who with a son, Robert, and a daughter, Mary Lou, survive. Other relatives are his mother, Mrs. Julia Richards, of Oswego and three brothers, Joe, of Washington, D. C.; Dean, of Chicago, and Ray, of Waukegan.

Name Cash Prizes For Decorations

$60 To Be Divided Between Business Houses and Homes

The weather man has not given Arlington Heights much Christmas weather, but the Trade and Civic Association announced this week the amount of the prize money and the judges, who have consented to serve in Christmas decorating contests. The prize money totals $60 and is divided into two classes, business houses and residential. First prizes will be $15, second $10 and third $5.

The chairman of the judges is Hugo J. Thal, representing both the Lions club and the Trade & Civic association. Mrs. Thos. Cooper, P. T. A.; Mrs. H. E. Glawe, Woman's Club; C. V. Baker, and A. M. Conger.

The judging will be based entirely on the Christmas decorations and not on the value of the residence or store front. The person of small means has an equal opportunity as the owner of a more affluent home. Originality will also be taken into consideration by the judges, each of whom will individually score the entries.

Prepare Christmas Toy Lists

True Christmas spirit as it affects the young people of Arlington Heights is seldom missing and plans for the distribution of toys to those in need have been completed. Mrs. A. D. Hines is chairman of the public school group; Mrs. Wm. F. Reese, of the Lutheran school and Mrs. Steve Csmadi of the Catholic group.

Supervisor Chas. F. Grandt has furnished the names of other families to Martha Jackson, who is this week completing before her departure from the village, her usual Christmas plans for the needy of Arlington Heights.

The Christmas planning is not confined to toys. The P. E. O. has been supplied with a list of shut-ins and the American Legion will distribute their usual baskets. Miss Jackson requests that names of any new families be sent direct to any of the above chairmen, dependent on the school that is attended by the children of the family.

A move is on foot to abolish all township school treasurers in Illinois.

This latest attack on local officials comes from a committee which is preparing new bills to be introduced in the new state legislature which will meet next month. The committee believes that the township treasurer has outgrown his usefulness, that he was probably needed back in the old days of bad roads when it was hard for teachers to get far from their schools but now with good roads they feel that all teachers can easily get to the county seat and it is the plan to pass legislation which will turn all the school treasurers over to the county treasurer.

Township collectors and assessors have had many battles at Springfield to keep their offices as bills have frequently been introduced that would abolish their offices. Now the school treasurers are in the van and legislation will no doubt be introduced before the legislature that if passed will do away with the office of township school treasurer.

Miss Jackson Says 'Good-bye' To Arlington

Martha Jackson, who has served as Arlington Heights community nurse the past eleven years, completes her duties here this week and will move Saturday to Downers Grove. Almost every where that Miss Jackson has gone this week, regretful goodbyes have been said to her. The files of the Herald alone tell the extent of her service to the community. They do not need any retelling here, but the Herald, this week, came across one of her last acts of service.

A five weeks old baby through her efforts underwent an operation on an eye at the Children's Memorial hospital Tuesday which will mean the saving of sight to this child. The parents were without funds, but Miss Jackson secured the operation and the child will have the best possible care at no expense to the family.

This is only one of the many "extra" things that Miss Jackson has meant to the community and no better farewell memorial could be erected or said of this woman who leaves her adopted village for larger fields.

The Herald knows that there are many Arlington Heights friends who will want to send Christmas cards to Miss Jackson. Her address is 1010 Curtis st., Downers Grove, Ill.

THANKS, BOYS!

This is the first time that the editor has been on the receiving end of a fire story. He has written "thank you to firemen and neighbors" for other people scores of times, but when it comes to the time when he should say "thank you" for himself, words are not adequate to express what the firm of H. C. Paddock Sons and the entire office force feel towards the members of the Arlington Heights fire department and the other men who prevented a complete loss of the publication plant.

There is no doubt that such a catastrophe would have seriously crippled the publication firm and would have thrown out of work fifteen wage earners, the majority of whom support families in Arlington Heights.

The determination to "carry on" and to rebuild in a manner that will enable the Herald to serve its community on a larger scale than ever, has been given added impetus by

The number of subscribers who are paying their subscriptions at this time.

The early payment of current bills by local business men. The many suggestions and offers of aid received from patrons, public officials and others.

Personal visits and telephone messages from neighboring publishers were accompanied by offers of use of plants from Des Plaines Publishing Co. Community Courier. Barrington Review. Hollister, Inc. LaGrange Citizen. Cicero Life.

A temporary office has been provided for the Herald at 23 West Davis street through the courtesy of G. Earl Grindle, realtors in charge of the Vail-Davis building.

To all of these and to others, we say:

"THANK YOU, BOYS!"

Stuart R. Paddock. Chas. S. Paddock.

Cardinals, Barrington, In Opener

Branches Come To Arlington Gym This Friday

Barrington will be here this Friday night to open the Arlington conference basketball schedule.

The "Broncos" of Barrington yearly furnish one of the good teams of the League and this season is no exception. At present they are faced with the possible loss of one of their best boys for this important game. Their red-headed Grabenkort who has been their leading scorer for two years, has been laid up with a bum knee for over a week. He was unable to compete against Crystal Lake last Saturday. With him out of the lineup, Barrington must rely on its even terms for three quarters, but succumbed in the last quarter after losing three boys on personals.

With Grabenkort in, the "Bronks" are definitely good. With him out they are still a good team, but missing one of their main links.

Saul and Watson form a brace of strikers who register frequently and freely. Church and Shepard are a pair of veteran guards who are reliable. Wilkins, who fills in at center for Grabenkort, is no slouch, as he clearly demonstrated against Crystal Lake.

These four form a veteran team, who, off their showing against Crystal Lake, can put the pressure on Arlington from start to finish. The kind of passing and shooting which the Cardinals put out against that same Crystal Lake team will be essential if they are to mark up victory number one in the conference race.

Arlington's lightweights will open with one of their toughest foes of the season. The Barrington youngsters beat Crystal Lake's lightweights by ten points and the Green Tornadoes lost to the same team by four. Comparative scores would indicate a win for the Cardinals, but the Tornadoes, heartened by a well-earned victory over Aurora, are set to pull this one out. Both games should be thrillers.

To Revive Gilt Edge List One Week

Twenty and thirty years ago, the gilt edge list comprising the names of subscribers who had paid in advance for this paper, was a weekly feature of the editor, the late H. C. Paddock.

That gilt edge list will be revived for one week and the issue of December 9, will contain the names of all subscribers who have responded to the subscription call since the fire of Thanksgiving day.

Never before have the publishers realized to such an extent that the readers of the Paddock Publications are all really one big family, and have a real friendly interest in the welfare of each other.

Hunter Killed While Clubbing Rabbit In Barrington Township

Seeing that his partner's shot had not killed a rabbit, Arthur Bradford, 21 years old, Oak Park, was fatally injured when he attempted to club the animal. Thanksgiving morning, on the Watson farm, Barrington township, he was pushed to the Sherman hospital, Elgin, where he died that night.

1939 Vehicle Tags Go On Sale Today

Autoists Can Save 25 Pct. By Payment Prior To Jan. 1st

The treasurer's department of the village of Arlington Heights hopes to break all records in the early sale of vehicle and dog tags for 1939 during the month of December. These annual tags go on sale today and 25% discount will be allowed on all purchases made prior to Jan. 1, 1939.

Speaking frankly, the village needs the money, and the average motorist appreciates a reduction in vehicle tax fees. The special discount will positively end patenary states Alderman Geo. Schneberger, chairman of the police committee. "The more people who take advantage of the discount," states the alderman, "the more autoists will save money and the village will receive the fees at a time when it is needed."

The discount applies to dog licenses as well as to vehicle tags.

Lower Safety Record In Arlington

Arlington Heights police department is keeping its fingers crossed in the hopes that fate will enable the department to report a 33% reduction in accidents during 1938. There have been 17 property damage accidents in the village this year compared to 28 last year. Fatalities are one each.

Chief Skoog attributes the record being made this year to a number of reasons, chief of which is the patrol of the streets by the police car, the work of safety patrol boys and the general attitude of our citizens towards accident prevention.

Autoists of neighboring towns are aware that high speed is punished in Arlington Heights and they are respecting to a greater extent the speed signs.

Mayor J. D. Flentie, Aldermen Schneberger and Krause and Chief Skoog, attended a safety council meeting of the first district held Tuesday at the Leland Hotel, Aurora.

Christmas Seals Distributed In Arlington Heights

An historical aspect is given this year's Christmas Seal Campaign by the insertion of portraits of four leaders in the fight against tuberculosis on each sheet of 100 seals, which were mailed in Arlington Heights last Friday.

Each corner seal on the sheet contains the picture of a man who has made an outstanding contribution to the tuberculosis movement.

Every great war has its heroes. The fight against this disease is no exception.

The four heroes pictured on each 1938 sheet of Christmas seals are as follows:

Dr. Rene Theophile Laennec, French physician, who in 1819 invented the stethoscope, a instrument which has been a great help to physicians in diagnosing tuberculosis. It has enabled them to hear the sounds in the chest and in this way to detect abnormal conditions.

Dr. Robert Koch, German physician, who in 1882 discovered the germ that causes tuberculosis, and, through this identification of the enemy, brought the first hope that it might be conquered.

Dr. Edward Livingston Trudeau, American physician, who in 1885 established modern sanatorium treatment of tuberculosis in the United States, at Saranac Lake. Uinar Holboell, postal clerk in Denmark, who in 1904 introduced the idea of selling a special Christmas stamp to build a hospital for tuberculosis children. The idea, adopted in this country in 1907, has made possible an organized fight against tuberculosis which has reached into every corner of the United States and has saved millions of lives.

It is a fine thing to keep alive the memory of these men who made notable contributions and have made possible the saving of millions of lives. Christmas seals finance the year-round public health education and clinical programs of The Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook County and its affiliated health centers.

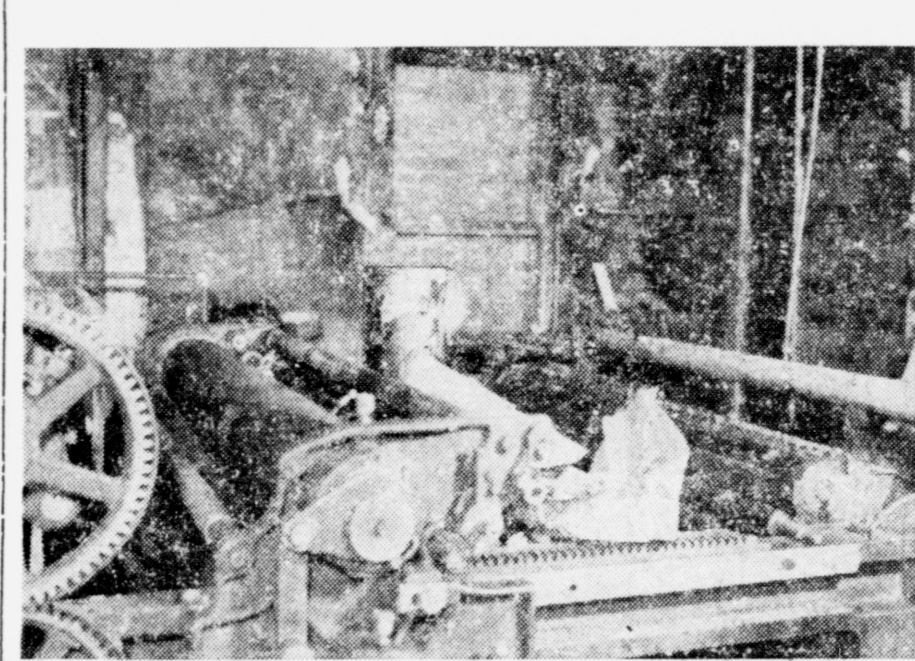

"Gold Miners" Hold Annual Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Hitchcock are entertaining this week Dr. and Mrs. Hugo E. Schmidt, of Milwaukee. While the two ladies are discussing mining, etc., the two men are recalling the days of 1909 when chance interfered with their plans to become gold miners.

The two men were thirty years younger then and stories of gold in the vicinity of Hudson Bay sounded good to them, who had visions of becoming millionaires. When it came time for them to make the final decision, three "yes" and three "nos" were placed in a hat. Dr. Smith drew out two and Mr. Hitchcock drew out one slip of folded paper. All three read "no." The boys accepted the verdict of fate and stayed home and thereby lost the opportunity to enter the millionaire class.

Village Dads Have A Chance To Be Thankful

High School Contract Is Awarded

Students of the Arlington Heights high school can have visions of entering a remodeled and new building when sessions start in September, 1939. Bids were opened from eight contractors by the high school board Saturday afternoon. The contract was awarded to Axel E. Johnson, the builder of the recently completed elementary school, for a net of $150,247.

The high school board has available a total of $172,700.00 comprising a bond issue of $95,000.00 voted by the taxpayers and a government grant of $77,700.00. The difference, between contract price and the available cash is expected to be ample for the needed equipment.

The bidders and the amount of net bid are:

Goat & Sollitt Const. Co.	$185,045
Coath & Gross, Inc.	170,992
Milton W. Pellinger & Co.	166,339
Langston Const. Co.	165,220
Chen & Andersen	159,000
Axel E. Johnson	150,247

Work was technically started by the contractor Monday morning when stakes were put in place and arrangements made for moving the present cafeteria north of the high school, where it will be rented by the contractor as a PWA office.

The erection of the new wing will take a large part of the available parking space and extend to the south end of the athletic field. The board authorized the purchase Saturday night of an acre of land from J. O. Bouffard, comprising an acre of ground at the north end of the present field, which boundaries can now be moved 132 feet further north, allowing for parking facilities adjacent to the new wing.

The board is looking forward to the development of the new field with proper landscaping and a cinder track.

Mrs. Fayette Briggs Called Home By Sudden Illness Of Husband

Mrs. Fayette Briggs was called home Sunday from Salt Lake City by the sudden illness of her husband. Mrs. Briggs recently returned to the United States from Hawaii, where she visited her son and was visiting at Salt Lake.

Mr. Briggs was taken with pneumonia last week, but fortunately is recovering nicely.

Due to mechanical difficulties at the Herald office, the final installment of Mrs. Briggs visit to Hawaii has been delayed until next week.

Both Engines Used To Avert Threat To Business District

The publication plant of H. C. Paddock Sons at Arlington Heights was partially destroyed by fire Thanksgiving afternoon. The building was so badly damaged that no attempt will be made to permanently repair it.

All paper stock and some equipment was completely destroyed, including a few minor machines. After extensive repairs the Duplex newspaper press and a majority of the motors and job presses are again in operation. Linotype and Ludlow machines were not greatly damaged.

Fire Dept. Saves Building

The Arlington Heights fire department, under the direction of Richard Jahn, assistant chief, put up a valiant fight and prevented a complete loss, which threatened during the first half hour. Flames reached almost all parts of the structure and the department used three streams of water to bring the fire under control. Dense smoke hindered the firemen who were forced to flood the building with water, to which fact is attributed a considerable of the damage, especially to the paper stock which is a complete loss. Included in the latter were three months supply of news print.

The fire was caused by an untended bonfire on the Redeker property, southwest of the Paddock building. Adjoining structures are brick, and when a small flame reached the wooden structure, it was not discovered until the corner of the building was burning briskly.

Second Fire Breaks Out

The first fire call at three o'clock was followed by a second call to the same premises near six o'clock. The firemen had left a man in charge of the plant and while he was on the second floor extinguishing a small blaze that had started, a second fire on the first floor had reached such proportions that a general fire alarm was again sounded.

Creditors Buy Bank Building

Palatine National Bank Building Saved For Future Bank Use

Arrangements have been completed for the purchase of the First National Bank building in Palatine by a group of creditors of the former bank.

Thomas C. Hart, as trustee for the creditors organization, will take title to the building. A group composed of many of the creditors of the institution pooled their interests by depositing with the trustee their claims against the bank.

As a substantial payment will be made in the near future by the receiver, these claim certificates were used as collateral for a loan by the creditors and the bank building now passes into their possession.

Thus the first step has been completed for a possible bank in Palatine at some future time. The bank building purchased by the creditors will be available for banking purposes when a bank can be organized.

Through the cooperation of that group of public spirited citizens, a bank building is now available. Now who wants to get behind the movement to bring a bank to Palatine?

THE DOCTOR AND THE CAUSE

By C. W. Lussman of Sieburg Pharmacy

A physical let-down is a sign of something that may become serious unless properly treated by that good old friend of mankind—the family doctor.

Experience in this instance is not the best teacher — merely the most expensive. The better part of wisdom is to take the doctor's office, relax in the doctor's office, tell him all about it, accept his skilled advice.

His advice may be merely to cut down on extra activities, or it may include medication. In either case, follow his advice implicitly.

Always remember how important it is to have prescriptions compounded in the precise manner required to secure the most gratifying effects.

Camp Fire Girls Hold Council Fire

The two groups of Campfire girls of Arlington Heights, the Chanyala group and the Oawasin group participated in a Council fire Sunday, Nov. 20, which was very beautiful and impressive.

The service was held in the Methodist church with only the light of candles for illumination. The Council fire was led by Mrs. Belle Campers, field secretary of the Chicago Council. After the Council call was given the girls entered the auditorium bearing their lighted tapers, which were placed in the windows.

Anne Volz, president of the Chanyala group, Nan Sommers president of one of the Oawasin groups and Rose Mary Heller president of the other Oawasin group explained Work, Health and Love in a candle lighting ceremony, after which camp fire songs were sung. The girls having won honor beads, were presented with their honors.

The Campfire organization in Arlington Heights, is in its fifth year and has 36 interested girls between the ages of ten and fourteen, in the groups. The beginners group meet each Monday afternoon, Ann Volz presiding as president; Patricia Day as secretary. They have been studying nature work this fall under the guidance of Mrs. Rex Volz. They also have been making spatter prints. Mrs. Ben Helfers assists with the beginners group also. They enjoyed a Halloween party in Wheeling Forest Preserve, cooking their own lunch, afterwards playing games and enjoying a hike.

The older group is divided into two parts, with Nan Sommers as president of one and Helen Davis, secretary, meeting on Friday after-

It Happened Here

He was a tramp of the Old School, remembered from the days of childhood when tramps were in a picturesque class by themselves. He came in for breakfast with the men and washed up at the sink; the morning air was sharp and wintry and the kitchen with its odor of coffee and food was inviting; he had slept in the lodge, he said, and bus of straw and saw leaves still clung to him, one bright leaf perching cockily above his ear. Plan gypsy, that's what! He shook down his short jacket and ran his fingers expertly through his hair, keeping an appraising eye on the cake griddle and the stove and taking readily to the ignored and untried things. He stepped forward, awaiting no bidding and maneuvered himself a place next to the plate of hot cakes; if he had any inhibitions due to embarrassment they were not apparent. W. E. case and assurance of a citizen of the world he ignored the untried things. He was playing knife and fork as daintily, president of one and Helen Davis, secretary, meeting on Friday after-he brought courts and far scenes before us, though all his talk was of vagabondage by country roads, hedges, straw stacks, corn shocks, hay mows, sheds and abandoned dwellings were invested with a glamor hitherto unknown in our prosaic lives, and ever after, Adventure walked the familiar lanes cockily wearing a red leaf behind the ear. And he left us an immortal gesture; lifting the empty bread plate, he smiled ingratiatingly around the board. "Who," he inquired, airily, "Who officiates as bread-cutter?"

Grace When Uncle David says the Grace, He waits 'til I'm up in my place. And when I'm still with eyes shut tight He talks to God, nice and polite. S'Amuser

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Firmbach, with their children and grandchildren, gathered in the old family home, 122 So. Evergreen with Mr. and Mrs. M. Saar, Thanksgiving day.

Mrs. C. C. Schwartz entertained her card group with a social afternoon, Wednesday.

Aid Society of Presbyterian church gave a luncheon and program of utility Thursday in charge of the December committee.

Mrs. James Groves, 642 S. Mitchell, was driving her car south on State rd. when she hit the rear fender of a car of F. Kloboucnik, Palatine, who had stopped on North-west Highway for the stoplight. Damage was slight.

Mrs. Arthur Berchet, S. State road, celebrated her birthday Sunday, with her sister and brothers. Mrs. Wm. Berchet of Elk Grove, mother of Mr. Berchet, and Herman Scharringhausen, of Elk Grove.

Louis Sadecky, of the meat department of the Sadecky store, was so anxious to aid at the Paddock fire Thanksgiving day, that he forgot he was wearing a new suit of clothes, "but what's a suit of clothes?" said Louis the following day.

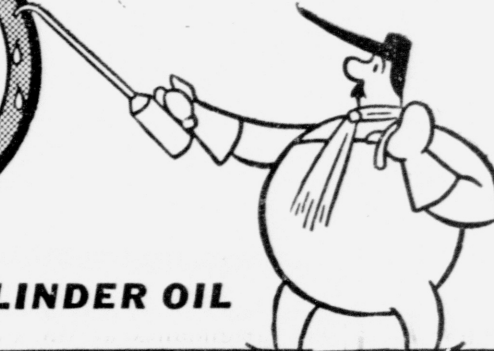

Mrs. Wm. Garms ate Thanksgiving dinner with Mrs. Herman Garms at Palatine.

Mr. Earl Bleimehl and family of Chicago and friends from Des Plaines and Arlington Heights helped Mr. Art Cameron celebrate his birthday Sunday. Mrs. Cameron served a birthday lunch in the afternoon.

A Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Meyer had as guests, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Eichelman, Lillian Eichelman, Louis Eichelman, all of Bensenville, and Rose Shannon, of Chicago.

Borden-Wieland Grade A Milk in Personal Service Containers

Easier and Lighter to Carry No Bottle Deposit or Return

Used in many other cities, we know that our sturdy, square paper bottle is safe, sanitary and preferred by those who buy their milk in stores.

It handles and pours easier and positively cannot drip.

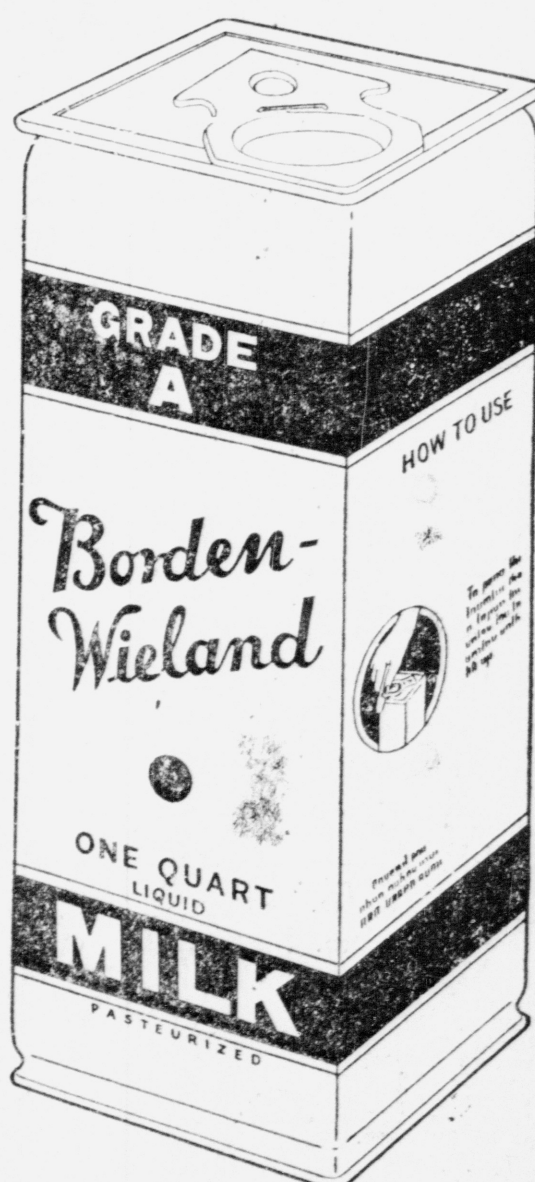

It comes to you sealed and reseals by pressing the hinged cap.

The paper is made of pure, virgin wood pulp. This paper is then printed and formed into bottles. Each bottle is then submerged in hot, molten paraffine which coats it inside and out; then drained and sealed before delivery to our bottling plant. Our filling machine opens the cap for a few seconds while filling, then reseals it. Borden-Wieland milk was never better protected.
